

This joyful Eastertide

Text: George R. Woodward, 1894

Music: Dutch traditional, David's Psalmen, 1685

VRUECHTEN 67.67 with refrain

arr. Charles Wood, 1902

The musical score is written for a four-part choir (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) and piano accompaniment. It is in 3/2 time and B-flat major. The score consists of six systems of music. Each system has a vocal line (treble clef) and a piano line (bass clef). The lyrics are written below the vocal line. The first system includes three verses of the main text. The second system continues the main text. The third system is the first line of the refrain. The fourth and fifth systems are the second and third lines of the refrain, respectively. The sixth system is the final line of the refrain. The piano accompaniment features a steady bass line and chords that support the vocal melody. There are several measures of rest in the piano part, particularly in the first and second systems.
