

The Sands of Time Are Sinking

Text: A. R. Cousin, 1857

Music: Edward F. Rimbault, 1867

RUTHERFORD 76.76.76.75

The musical score is written for a four-part setting (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) in the key of E major (three sharps) and 2/2 time. The melody is primarily based on the E major scale, with some chromaticism in the bass line. The lyrics are arranged in four stanzas, each with four lines. The first stanza is the main text, and the second and third stanzas are variations. The fourth stanza is a final verse. The score includes a variety of chords, including triads, dyads, and some more complex chords like B7/F# and F#m/A. The lyrics are printed below the staves, with the first line of each stanza in a larger font. The score is a full page of music, with a final double bar line at the end of the fourth stanza.

1 The sands of time are sink - ing, the dawn of hea - ven breaks.
2 The King there in his bea - ty with - out a veil is seen;
3 O Christ, he is the foun - tain, the deep sweet well of love!
4 The bride eyes not her gar - ment, but her dear bride-groom's face;

the sum - mer morn I've sighed for, the fair sweet morn a - wakes;
it were a well-spent jour - ney, though sev'n deaths lay be - tween:
The streams on earth I've tast - ed, more deep I'll drink a - bove:
I will not gaze at glo - ry, but on my King of grace;

dark, dark hath been the mid - night, but day - spring is at hand,
the Lamb with his fair ar - my doth on Mount Zi - on stand.
there to an o - cean full - ness his mer - cy doth ex - pand,
not at the crown he gift - eth, but on his pier - céd hand:

and glo - ry, glo - ry dwell - eth in Em - man - uel's land.
and glo - ry, glo - ry dwell - eth in Em - man - uel's land.
and glo - ry, glo - ry dwell - eth in Em - man - uel's land.
the Lamb is all the glo - ry of Em - man - uel's land.
