

Christ the Lord is risen today

Text: Charles Wesley, 1739, alt.

Music: anon, Lyra Davidica, 1708

EASTER HYMN 77.77 with alleluias

The musical score is written for four voices (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) in 4/4 time. The key signature is one flat (B-flat major or D minor). The melody is primarily in the Soprano part, with the other voices providing harmonic support. The score is divided into four systems, each corresponding to a line of the hymn text. The first system includes a four-part setting of the first line of the hymn, followed by a four-part alleluia. The second system includes a four-part setting of the second line of the hymn, followed by a four-part alleluia. The third system includes a four-part setting of the third line of the hymn, followed by a four-part alleluia. The fourth system includes a four-part setting of the fourth line of the hymn, followed by a four-part alleluia. The score is written in a clear, legible font, with the lyrics printed below the corresponding musical staves. The alleluia responses are marked with 'Al - le - lu - ia' and are set to a simple, rhythmic melody. The score is a faithful representation of the original hymn, with the lyrics and music accurately transcribed.
