1 The Whys as a fam - 'ly seem odd at first glance,
2 The Whys sow with each seed a ker - nel of doubt.
3 An oak tree, un - yield - ing two - hun - dred years back,
4 A guy once came by sell - ing Mag - ic - al Stalk™.
5 To be like the Whys, you must take things a - part.

1 They're farm - ers at - temp - ting to kill all their plants.
2 They trust a few neigh - bors, but nev - er a sprout,
3 was fin - al - ly felled af - ter man - y a whack.
4 The Whys took one look and said, "That's just a rock!
5 To chal - lenge my stor - y's a great place to start!

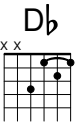

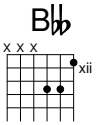

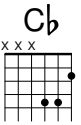

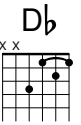

1 When har - vest day comes, af - ter all that ab - use,
2 cause folk round these parts grow the darn - dest of things,
3 You might think it cold, but they shed not a tear.
4 Un - liv - ing, un - kill - a - ble, won't give a yield.
5 If this her - bal an - al - o - gy with - ers and dies,

1 the veg - gies sur - vi - ving can real - ly pro - duce!
2 but Whys plant a seed just to test what it brings!
3 The stump made a bed for new growth to ap - pear!
4 It's not worth the space it would take in our field!"
5 I still think it's true you'll find truth in the Whys!

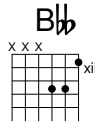

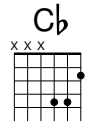

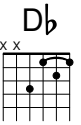

1 Oh, how do the Whys grow what - ev - er they do?

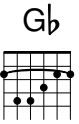

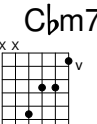

An ex - cel-lent ques - tion! Here's what they'll tell you:

We flood in the night and we burn in the day.

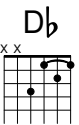

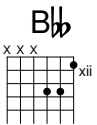

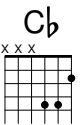

In eve - ning and morn - ing we're hack - ing a - way.

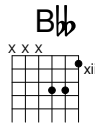

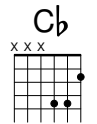

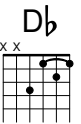

We suf - fer no beet leaf to stay past its prime,

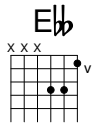

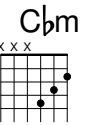

or give ten - der stems just a lit - tle more time.

Yes, some will sur - vive, but we know not yet which!

The ones that do, thrive, and have made us quite rich.

With re - spect to all farm-ers, re - gard-ing their crops,
