1 Oh, all the mo-ney that 'ere I spent, I spent it in good com-pa-ny.

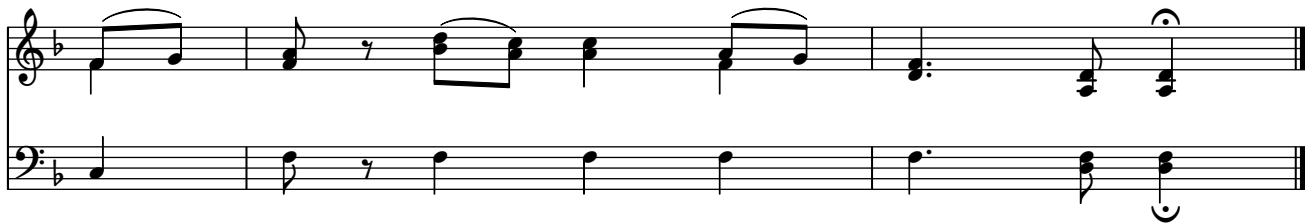

And all the harm that 'ere I done, a - las, it was to none but me.

And all I've done for want of wit, To mem - 'ry now I can't re-call.

This musical system consists of a treble and a bass staff. The treble staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one flat (B-flat), and a common time signature (C). The melody is composed of eighth and sixteenth notes, with some notes beamed together. There are several rests and repeat signs. The lyrics are written below the treble staff. The bass staff begins with a bass clef and a key signature of one flat. It provides a simple harmonic accompaniment with mostly quarter and eighth notes. The system ends with a repeat sign.

So raise to me the part - ing glass. Good-night! And joy be with you all.

This musical system continues the melody from the first system. It features a treble and a bass staff. The treble staff contains the main melody, which includes a double bar line and repeat sign at the end of the line. The lyrics are aligned with the notes. The bass staff continues the accompaniment, also ending with a double bar line and repeat sign.

2 Oh, all the com-rades that 'ere I had, are sor - ry for my go-ing a - way.

This block contains the first line of a musical score. It features a treble and bass staff in 4/4 time with a key signature of one flat. The melody in the treble staff includes eighth and sixteenth notes, with some notes beamed together. The lyrics are written below the treble staff, starting with a '2' indicating a second ending. The bass staff provides a simple accompaniment with quarter and eighth notes.

And all the sweethearts that 'ere I had, would wish me one more day to stay.

This block contains the second line of the musical score. It continues the melody and accompaniment from the first line. The treble staff features similar rhythmic patterns, and the lyrics are aligned with the notes. The bass staff continues with its accompaniment. The line concludes with a final note in the treble staff.

But since it falls un - to my lot that I should rise and you should not,

This musical system consists of a treble and bass staff in B-flat major. The treble staff features a melody with eighth and sixteenth notes, often beamed together, and includes some triplets. The bass staff provides a simple harmonic accompaniment with quarter and eighth notes. The lyrics are written below the treble staff, aligned with the notes.

I'll gen - tly rise, and I'll soft - ly call: Good-night! And joy be with you all.

This musical system continues the melody from the first system. It features similar rhythmic patterns in the treble staff and a consistent bass accompaniment. The lyrics are aligned with the notes, and the system concludes with a double bar line and repeat dots.

Good - night! And joy be with you all.

This musical score is written for a vocal melody and a piano accompaniment. The key signature is one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The vocal line is on a treble clef staff, and the piano accompaniment is on a bass clef staff. The lyrics are: "Good - night! And joy be with you all." The melody features a mix of eighth and quarter notes, with some phrases being beamed together. The piano accompaniment consists of simple chords and single notes, providing a harmonic foundation for the vocal line. The piece concludes with a double bar line.
